a note from the director

The work of NDUEC has been modeled around best practices in education. At present the Center has three educational programs: Homework PLUS; Summer Academics; Family Support.

The Homework PLUS program provides one-on-one tutoring for students utilizing nearly 120 adult and high school volunteers. This program features three components: one-on-one tutoring, enrichment, and fitness. The program provides a safe environment in which students are supported by caring adults who assist them to become responsible students in completing homework in a timely manner. The fitness session gives the students the needed physical outlet that includes cardio drumming, relaxed boxing and more. The enrichment session engages the students in art, math club, music, current events, fun trivia, and includes speakers and activities from Price Waterhouse Cooper, the Carnegie and the Taft Museum. This program runs from September through May for the current school year.

The Summer Academics program provides students with one on one help in Math and Language Arts: Reading and English. This program features three components: Math, Language Arts, and enrichment including lessons in art, Spanish, and library skills. Summer Academics takes place during the four weeks in June.

NDUEC has four Family Support nights during each school year. This program provides a hot meal for our families and hosts speakers on various topics of interest. The evening is filled with camaraderie and support.

Notre Dame Urban Education Center has been assisting children and families since opening its doors in the summer of 2010. If you would like to know more about the Center or how to become a volunteer or donor, please email Sr. Maria Therese at smtherese@nduec.org.
